From: Amber Houghstow
To: Totten, Daniel
Subject: Re: Checking in on BDS vote and opportunities to support Q
Date: Monday, April 23, 2018 4:55:35 PM

Me too! Thank you so much for the update. :)

On Mon, Apr 23, 2018, 4:07 PM Totten, Daniel <dtotten@cambridgema.gov> wrote:

> Hi Amber,
>
> Thanks for checking in! There have been a lot of rumors flying around, but as of right now no Councillor has actually submitted an order about HP or Israel. It seems to me like this issue has become so incredibly toxic that nothing will even come before the Council, let alone pass out of it. I will definitely let you know if that changes.
>
> I find the "tech over politics" ad to be particularly infuriating!
>
> Best,
>
> Dan
>
> From: Amber Houghstow [mailto:amber.houghstow@gmail.com]
> Sent: Monday, April 23, 2018 2:29 PM
> To: Totten, Daniel <dtotten@cambridgema.gov>
> Subject: Checking in on BDS vote and opportunities to support Q
>
> Hi Dan,
>
> Hope all is well. I just got an Android app ad presumably purchased by HP trying to get me to sign a 'tech over politics' survey and mentioning that HP's campaign had delayed a city council vote.
>
> How are things going? Is there anything I can do to support? I have mixed feelings about the effectiveness-to-effort ratio of BDS-based strategies but am overall supportive. I'd be interested in putting word out and attending any upcoming community forums if it would be helpful. My social ties through MIT are a little more techie than political, so maybe it could help reach a few more people?

Hope you and Q are getting enough rest and have been able to avoid harassment over the issue.

Best wishes,

Amber